APRIL 10, 2016 | Transcript

Today is April 9th, 2016. All right, you can see that I'm feeling a little bit better. I'm in a better mood. There's been a whole bunch of crap going on and you know when the...you start stirring the crap up, the master of the shit-stirring pops up...me (laughter). Ask my father! He used to say, "You're the best shit-stirrer I've ever seen. But, uh, there's been a lot, hasn't there?"

Let's start with Donald Trump. We'll get to other things, don't worry. Donald Trump is, uh, the first. Donald Trump is, uh, they're catching up to Donald Trump because they're attacking him from all sides and Donald is not prepared for that. Uh, their team wasn't prepared for it. They weren't on the ground like they were supposed to be, but that would have helped. You have to remember, a day or two before the election, the vote, the primaries in Wisconsin, Donald had a lead on, on Cruz and all of a sudden, he lost his lead overnight and Cruz won by twenty points. Now, you know either something was wrong with the Quinnipiac results or polling or someone stole the votes from Donald Trump in Wisconsin, which is what numerous people said happened. Because they would vote for Trump and it would come back Cruz. And, as a matter of fact, the head of the Republican Committee in Wisconsin said if the Trump people do not know how to vote, then they should go back and learn and then come back and maybe things will happen the right way. Well, I think they're all going to be subject to scrutiny and this one because it was Iowa, it was Texas, it was Utah and now it's Wisconsin, and I'm not even trying to be pro-Trump at the moment. I'm just using logic that when, uh, when something like this happens, somebody has to do some work. They have to find out what happened. And I think Trump is doing that now. I don't think he's letting any grass grow under his feet.

Ok, you have to understand something. I, I did. Trump's got them no matter which way he turns them. If he goes to the final, what's it called, the Republican National Committee, uhh, delegates, to see if he wins or not, if they vote for him or Cruz, or now Ryan. I mean they violated their agreements with Trump already. Ok. They violated them. They, they were supposed to support Trump. Instead, they're throwing everything but the kitchen sink at them. I mean, that poor guy. I understand he's got brass you know what, you know, but the bottom line is he's got a beautiful wife next to him who's not so fragile. He's got a daughter who's as strong as the Rock of Gibraltar and also as smart as they come. And he's got the right family around him, but still, they've got to be pretty vulnerable to all the accusations and the name calling and everything else, cause after a while, no matter how much you've got around you, they strip the veils and they get to your vulnerability and your fragility and they hurt you. They hurt you and they don't care if they're hurting that family. That's how cruel they are. Very cruel.

But, you know, he's got some options and just look at it like this: he can take it to the end and wait for the delegates and when the delegates vote against him, he can then go to his independent party, set up his own independent party and take half the Republican Party with him and some of the Democratic Party with him and his own people with him as well. And what it'll do is destroy both, the Democrat, the Democratic Party and Republican Party. It'll have his own party, the third party. It'll be the best thing that could happen to the United States, is having the third party. It'll get the people the chance to really vote for who they want, uh, this time, cause you never know what's going to happen next time. And we might not even get a chance to vote for who we want this time. This time here, we may be shut out again because they may be playing with those boxes again.

George Soros, if Donald Trump wins, I hope he puts out an arrest warrant out for you. I hope you'll never come into the U.S. again. I hope they catch you and I hope they put you on national television when they hang you for what you've done to the American people. Ok, you old frigger, I hope that happens. Not just to you, to the others with you, the people you've got dancing like little puppets, you know?

So that's one option that Donald Trump has, is going all the way. The other option would be not to go all the way, but to take it another two or three states and see where this guy Ryan comes in. And, you know, he's going to win New York, no question about it. If, if, Cruz gets a thousand votes in New York, the way he treated New York, he's going to be a lucky boy. Ryan might not get 500, if he's in the game. They're, they're out of the game. Trump is a New York boy. He's gonna get all, he's taking all the votes home, just about. So he's not going to jump out then. He's going to wait and see, 'cause if he can get that one thousand two hundred and some votes. If he gets that, there'll be no, uh, no voting, no electional, no, uh, whatever you want to call it in the Republican National Convention. They won't have any voting with the delegates.

Then the third, the third thing would be, the second thing, he could walk away, after the two or three, the next two or three states, take his time, put his feet up and go from state to state, rally, getting his rallies and so on together, talking to the people, without having these big debates where everybody's coming at you all at one time and everybody else is relaxing and doing nothing. Ok? He can have, the rest of the way can be cruising in, going on his plane, going over here, going over there, over here and you know something, he won't have any of those protestors out front either because Cruz won't be there, the others won't be there and he'll have his own people there.

So, I mean, it'll be a whole different ball game of relaxation, getting his, talking to the people while Cruz is fighting with Ryan, 'cause Cruz wants to win, you know, and Ryan is going to try to, you know, I don't know if Trump can give his votes to anybody. If he could, he should split them up with Kasich and Ryan and that way, they all get about equal and they'll be killing each other. In the meantime, Trump's out there with his own party, which means he's going to go to, go to the Presidential race no matter what.

He's already in. He's a lock. Ok. And he's going to take his time to visit the people, and the people where he didn't win, where he should've won and things like that, he can go visit, revisit them, go back and he can, he can work his magic, in a nice, relaxed manner. You know, I like that option there, right there, because it's going to tear 'em up, especially if he can release his votes, the ones he's got now, he can split it up. I'll give you some, I'll give you some. You can't have any, Cruz. You've got some. And have them all fighting with each other and he takes off and does his own thing as the Presidential nominee of his own party. Think about that. He'll destroy the Republican and the Democrat. Huh? Not so bad. He's got the trump card right now and he has it, he'll have it in the end too, as well.

So, Donald, use, use your brain. You've got a biggie and, uhh, good luck. Good luck. I think you're going to do just fine. And, by the way, you can also file the civil RICO against the Republican National Convention. You can file the civil RICO against the, Ted Cruz. You can file it against all the delegates, all the super PAC, all the, all the people that have conspired against you, including judges. Including our government, if you want to call it a government. I still call it a government sometimes, but it's really, you know, a corporation. It's nothing more than a corporation. It's pull the curtain and you got the guy at the computer, like the Wizard of Oz. That's it. It's nothing more.

So, what do you have here? You got Donald Cruz winning. I mean, Donald Cruz (laughing), Donald Cruz! You got Donald Trump winning. Sorry. (laughing) My head is spinning. I mean it's spinning on that one. Boy, it's not a difficult decision to make. But, you know, it depends on when you want to drop out and when you want to put the screws to them before they put the screws to you. Ok?

Now, the next thing. You know, we've gone through a lot together. And I thank you for standing by me, through thick and thin. Even Jean Haines's people stood by me and, you know, I never wanted to do, talk before the camera. I'm not good at it. I'm not good at it. And I know that. I'm telling you what I know and I tell you and what I've been told. It's coming from reliable sources. I have connections second to none. And Michael Dunn will tell you that and others who know me. I've got bad guys. I've got good guys. The bad guys are better than the good guys most of the time. Ok? And I can reach out and I can get to people.

You know, we've taken down so many different organizations, from OITC to Swissindo and Red Dragon and, I mean, all kinds of nonsense along the way. There's one after the other. Karen Hudes, another joker. And now we've got another joker called Kamerin. Oh, what the hell is that guy's name? I don't even know if it's a guy. Well, just call him Kamerin Faily, Kamerin Faily or Fally. Whatever you want to call him, he's the guy that's claiming the divine gods and the Intergalactic officials, orders and so on. And you know, I've never heard such bullshit in my life. And a lot of you are buying it. You're biting for it, again. You bit for the Red Dragon. You bit for OPPT. And, I mean, you'd think you would learn after a little, a little while of fighting and going through this.

But, it's nonsense. It's nonsense. This guy has nothing. He's talking about the same shit the Red Dragon talked about. He's talking about, uhh, Bretton Woods. What he's forgetting to tell you is that Bretton Woods One and Bretton Woods Two are both hijackings of the Western system created by the West. He's not telling you that. He's not representing the East. He's representing the West. He's never going to touch anything in the East and there's nobody in the East going to jail. And if you've got those spaceships up above like you think, and the Intergalactic, uh, officials or protection or police officers or whatever up there ready to arrest us all, then, God Damn it, beam me up, Scotty. Beam me up. You fool, you think that I'm buying your shit? I don't buy your shit. Ok? You can sell the people if you want, your crap. Beam me up!

You said there would be no more chemtrails! Ok, starting off yesterday. Well, you know something, we've had chemtrails here today. They've had chemtrails in Florida. They've got chemtrails in Kentucky. They've had chemtrails in London. They have them in France. They're all over the place still.

You sir, are a fraud. Okay. As my connections in the east tell me, you're a joker. And a joker is another name for a clown or a fraud. That's what you are. And I'm not going to push you into believing me, like I didn't push you into believing me with the Red Dragons when we buried them, and threw dirt on them, and then they came back with another name. And you went for it again! You went twice for the same poison! And you got bit almost twice.

Stop jumping at everything somebody throws you. The tidbits they're throwing you and the promises they're making, they can't keep. You know, when someone offers you something that's too good to be true, it usually is—especially someone who's just entering the game—by entering an arena. You don't even know them and they're promising you the world and they can't give it to you. They just can't.

Anyway, I can't see how this guy, or a lot of people, mostly those who've gotten into Cosmic Voice, we haf such a tight group of people, and now all I see is chaos going back and forth. And it's not what was there. I mean, there's a lot more people in there, I know. I know they're looking for the numbers, I guess. But it's, it's really not working I don't think. For me it's not working. For others I know it's not working, but now let's get back to the Kamerin.

He's looking for your assets, by the way. He's talking about the Committee of 300 no longer existing. He's talking about the Vatican not being involved. Ah, amongst other, let me see if I have anything in my notes here, okay, 'cause I don't follow them too much.

Okay, the Committee of 300 doesn't exist any longer. Of course, they don't exist any longer! The key has been turned on the system! Kamerin! You think everybody was born yesterday? The system, the key, has been turned off on them! They can't get into the system right now and do what they want. In other words, they're off the field. They're no longer on the playing field. They're off the playing field and they've been off the playing field for a little while. They're desperate. So now they've got maybe this clown. I'll be polite. They've got this clown. I'm using the eastern words, okay, clown. "Piosa." They're using this piosa. Okay? And they come out and tell people they're gonna be arrested if you don't give elders, especially Chinese elders, and so on, if you don't give your boxes, your trunks, your assets in the bunkers, your assets in the global accounts, to me. If you don't give them to me, they're gonna come and they're gonna arrest you. You will be in trouble. Beam me up, Scotty!!

Beam me up. I'm waiting. Take me first. Bring you a long-eared, long-legged ET's to see me. Because you know something? You are knee-deep in shit! And that's what somebody should have told you a long time ago. You sound like the Red Dragon guy again. And you know, I'm tired of seeing them come and go as fast as they do. Mark, do some research on this guy. We'll bury him like we buried the others. And then we'll play Taps. (humming Taps)
Bye bye, in other words, you'll get to see him leave, too.

Anyway, getting back to it. You know, I'm about ready to return to Asia. Uh, still my funds haven't arrived. And it looks like they won't come via the bank. I'm working on many things, see, don't expect me to count on one. There's a guy in France who's going to court soon and I might be able to get my assets back that were taken from them.

But, you know, another little, just a little situation over here, what happened as well. Somebody tried to clean up the mess of what was left in my accounts over here, and he got caught as well—a guy by the name of Vasil Stefanoff. And, uh, he's going to court any day. And that's just gonna be a little bit of money. But that's not enough. But they cancelled and cancelled and cancelled, but now I'm getting ready to take it into an international court, even if it's as small as it is. He got caught going into my account. Okay? And, this is after the big one. So, I'm going to put him away if I can. We can't let anybody play with us like they think they can play with us. We've gotta put 'em to bed. The bank knows it. The police know it. And everybody else knows it. I'm not playing games.

But we've gone through so much together, haven't we? Really. So you know, I've thought about it many times, about how, how I could walk away because nobody wanted to help. The only people that wanted to help were the bad guys. There were no good guys to come forward. And, I refuse to work with the bad guys, when all of a sudden you wouldn't have what I planned for us to have initially. There would be something different. And you'd get beat at it and you wouldn't have anything, anyway. They would come in and they would assert their, one way or another, maybe their authority, maybe somehow they'd be, I don't know, but, I don't know. But it'd be a war. People would die. No question. And I don't want to get to that point. No Trojan Horses. No this. No that.

So, I thought about it. I don't need the bad guys. And there are no good guys coming forward. Okay. They're all holding onto their funds, even though the dollar's gonna die, amongst other things. They don't want to invest in the people. So, I'll find it. And I'll find it myself again and I'll finish this thing off. I don't want those guys. I think they're good guys were sitting there holding it anymore. They don't care about you, but I do. I'm gonna find that money. We're gonna go, then we're gonna finish it up. And you will get those humanitarian packages. We will save our backsides. I can save my backside. I don't need to do this. But I'm staying. I'm staying the course. I'm gonna find a way to finish it off, get what we need, get what everybody needs, and get this rolling. Not only for the United States, of course. Remember, this is what the eastern funds I'm talking about.

Again, I get calls from people every day. "Mr. Keenan?" "Yes?" "When are we gonna get some money? When are the accounts gonna be opened? When can we come and get some?" I tell them, "you can't get them. We're not a Welfare office. You have to go to the Welfare office. We're gonna create projects. We're gonna create jobs. We're gonna make people work. We're gonna get people healthy, and maybe wealthy. (8:16) We're gonna have many projects as we go along. So it's gonna help a lot. It's gonna help the middle class, it's gonna help the lower class, the rich, the rich get richer, and somehow, but not with these, because they'll all be running through a foundation. Not the government. The government will never touch the funds, never. Donald Trump doesn't want to touch the funds. He says, "do what you have to do with the people. Get things rolling. But don't turn it over to the government." So, he's right. He's right. That's how it got to where all the theft starts and all the fraud starts. We don't need that.

So we'll do it through a foundation all over the world—the same foundation but in different locations. And we'll be running private... we'll be doing the platforms and the private trading, to keep the thing rolling. Keep it rolling, like Rawhide. "Rolling, rolling, rolling...Keep those doggies rolling." We will do it. And, we will come out victorious. And we'll come out doing, creating a new world better than ever. A matter of fact, we're gonna be the New World Order—We the People. Cause we've never been an Order before. This is our chance to be the New World Order.

They want a New World Order? We're the New World Order! And they're the slaves! How's that? Because we're the numbers. When this is over with, we'll be chasing them for what they've done to us. We'll be hiring security to go after them as well. Of course. We'll be filing recourse against them. The judges will be careful because we'll be putting them away, too. Because, remember now, they're not government officials, they're corporate officials, including the Supreme Court of the United States. Including the FDA, including the IRS—all of them. They're all corporations. The ace and the cards are in our hands, too. Trump's got 'em on one side, we've got 'em on the other. And between us all, we should be able to close those doors; not only in the United States, but in Europe, Asia, and everything else, because the Asians are going to be doing very well.

They'll be so many humanitarian projects. And if we can do the redemptions on the boxes, on some of the boxes, and we can get them out of the bunkers within the next week—a couple of days, even. We can bring a bunch of them in, and uh, we can make the deals with the principals in this case, which would be, I'll have access to them.

So, I mean, it's gonna be a different ball game, an entirely different ball game. It's just a little while away where things will start, things will happen, and I've got my Belize secret weapon sitting there in the United States pumping me every day, pumping me every day. "Be careful. Watch your back. What about this? What about that? What about this?" I mean, I've never had anybody hit me so hard from so many angles at one time, but waking me up. Because I'm invulnerable as far as I'm concerned. I can go out. I can do that. I can do that, and I have my own security, I have everybody else's security. Sooner or later something, I don't care about the angels around me, and the rings around me, and everything else, and the ceremonies, and everything else that I've been exposed to, in . . . The bottom line is that sooner or later something will happen. I'm bouncing back from the last one. You can tell. My feet still hurt a little bit, but I'm beginning to get healthy.

If I have a martini I get healthy, wealthy, and wise. The three olives. Ha! Ha! Ha! Three olives and a martini. Health, wealth, and happiness. That's what it is. And, I can't wait to have one, but I'm not going to until we're done. I believe. We have to finish what we have to finish. I'll get what I have to get. You people watch out for what you have to watch out for, because they keep sneaking in on you. This Kamerin Faily, he's sneaking in on you.

You know, I'm not gonna tell you anymore. You've gotta watch out! Okay, and you have to start watching out, too. I can't fight everybody for you along the way. My road's pretty clear. Kamerin Faily is getting nothing from the east. Nothing! Let him send his spaceships down and I'll show you how fast the spaceships go back to where they come from. They're probably made out of paper.

Anyway, I wish you all well. I think we've said everything we have to say. I am going back. I am finishing up. And I don't care how sick I was. Do I look sick now? Let me tell you something. I feel pretty damn good right now. I'm gonna hit the treadmill. I'm gonna go in the weight room in the other room. I have the treadmill here right next to me. I've got the chi, and I've got everything I need. And I'm gonna spend, I don't know how long I have to, maybe a week., or ten days more. Then I'm gonna hit it hard – two or three hours a day – and when I get to where I'm going, I'm gonna continue doing it two or three hours a day, maybe four hours a day, and I'm gonna get my strength back. And when I do, I'm gonna become an animal. I'm gonna be an animal, a wild animal. And I'm gonna get rid of the shit that's been draped upon us, as quickly as I can.

Somebody said drink up on. Drake? You're not upon us, are you? Ha! Ha! Draped upon us. And Drake is with me, I know, and I'll put Drake, and when this is over with, this is probably the only thing I know is real because I'm there. And Drake will be with me, and Drake will get what he needs.

Nelu! Get ready! We're going to work. You're gonna get off your ass and you're going to work! Jo, don't go "Ooh. Ooh." Okay? You're going to work, too! I'm bringing some others with me and we're gonna finish this thing up. This time we have security and everything will come, so I don't have to watch out for everybody. We'll have our own security and we'll get this thing over with.

Now's the time. There's no tomorrows. There's too many people's lives at stake. Nobody's paying attention to them and nobody seems to care. Let's care, okay, let's show the people we care. That's what I'm concerned about. Don't worry about it.

And by the way, one final thing. Kamerin Faily, if you want "the guy," the "ET guy," why don't you know what's going on around right now? What's wrong with you? It's huge, and you don't know! My goodness! You must have slipped and hit your head!

Good night, everybody. There's no music right now. You know, I wish I could play a song and da-da-da-da-da, da-da-da-da-da-da. Grammy J, behave yourself! I heard about you. You know, you know what I heard! Ha! Ha! And tell everybody good night. And good luck Thomas with your foundation.

Good night, everybody! Chao! Chao! (or chop chop or??)
