

The HEALING COMPUTER

Questions and Answers

By Thomas Kramer

Since the recent Healing Computer training sessions that we had in Jogyakarta, several people have asked me to help clarify some of the questions that keep coming in concerning the technology and operations of the Healing Computer.

With the exception of Walter, the inventor of the Healing Computer, I am probably one of the more knowledgeable members in Group-K concerning this technology as I have over 40 years experience in this field and working directly with mystic healers.

As I now have personal hands-on experience on the Healing Computer, I can testify that it has genuinely made positive changes in my own body, eliminating 2-years of nagging back pains, clearing digestive track problems, healing pre-diabetic conditions, improving my posture and mental alertness, plus rejuvenating the cells throughout my entire body following a serious energy sapping event. I can now confidently testify that this is the best frequency healing machine that I have ever tested. It really works.

And the real beauty of this therapy is that you can immediately see the results! The graphic and diagnostic readings are immediately available after each full body scan. These scan results are easy to read and understand and very, very detailed, picking up even minor problems that I didn't even know that I had... and then correcting them. Wow! What an experience.

So here goes to answering some of your questions:

What is the Healing Computer?

The Healing Computer starts off as a top of the line laptop computer that has built-in high speed processors and lots of memory capacity.

These are the more expensive versions, but they require further modifications internally and externally as advanced programming algorithms and special custom software and sensor modules have to be added and external plug points for the feet, hand and head electrodes have to be added to the computer.

The real difference between the Healing Computer and other frequency based devices on the market is in the core module and the electrodes.

The electrodes are specially electroplated in order to maximize frequency sensitivity and conductivity as these connect directly to the core module. These sensors must be cleaned before and after every session to prevent cross readings and contaminated results between users.

The core module is the real heart of the Healing Computer. It comes as a separate external sealed unit which if opened will immediately destroy the software and functioning of the computer (simply, don't touch it!).

This module controls the extremely sensitive scanning and transmitting of specific frequencies that are produced throughout the human body. This module uses specific rare earth custom made devices that allow for the detection of and transmission of millions of frequencies related to the healthy functioning of human cells.

The Healing Computer thus consists of a powerful laptop computer, a proprietary core module and custom software, and the external feet, hands and head electrodes.

It Is Simple To Operate

The proprietary software is easy to use and user friendly. Once you attach the electrodes to a client you turn the computer on, type in the client's name and date and then hit the scan button. 3-5 minutes later the full body, chakra, aura and diagnostic scan report comes on screen.

The scan report is then easily reviewed based on visuals and graphs as these are self explanatory and only done to establish the BEFORE baseline to later compare with actual healing results.

The preliminary scan also sets the algorithms for the frequency healing process based on what frequencies the client needs the most. This can be fully automatic or be operator controlled. Once the healing frequencies are determined, the press of a button starts the 15 to 20 minute healing session.

At the end of the healing session a new scan is performed and the resulting screens come up showing the BEFORE and AFTER results as graphs and pictures (see my previous post on neilkeenan.com)

The results are then reviewed with the client noting that once healing is activated, it may take several days for cells to react and physical changes being felt. Normally a second session is recommended a week later.

There are exceptions in very critical cases where multiple sessions can be done every day in a series. When a repeat session is done, these can be compared to previous scans to easily see healing effects and progress.

All scans can be emailed to clients in full PDF format.

What is the History FREQUENCY HEALING?

Actually frequency healing has been around for a very long time in various forms. Most people have heard about "the laying on of hands" or the use of shaman or "witch doctors".

Only in the last century have scientists and researchers been able to generate specific frequencies and discover those frequencies that can heal specific ailments. In the 1930's Royal Rife demonstrated the first frequency healing machine having only a few frequency generating capabilities.

The advent of the personal computer in the 1980's spurred research in this field and resulted in the invention of TENS units, Brain Tuners, Tesla watches and all kinds of frequency mapping activities that led to curing of addictions, cellular healing and even tissue regeneration.

As computers improved and data acquisition of specific frequencies being generated for each organ in the human body, as well as, individual auras and chakras, all became known.

This has resulted in even more electromagnetic healing devices such as magnetic pads, med beds, frequency stimulators and so on. Some work. Most do not.

The Healing Computer is currently at the pinnacle of this technology with the ability to scan and process millions of frequencies from head-to-toe and then diagnose and create a proper healing program that addresses an individual's specific problems. No other computer system even comes close to these capabilities.

What is FREQUENCY HEALING?

Frequency healing involves detecting cellular frequency abnormalities and then transmitting to the cells the normal healthy frequency. The frequency abnormalities show up by monitoring and comparing healthy cell frequencies with the infected or dysfunctional cells frequencies.

The healing part involves jamming the incorrect frequencies and transmitting the correct frequencies to the effected cells. This is just like jamming a radio wave and then broadcasting a stronger wave at another close-by frequency. On a cellular basis this is much more refined and sensitive.

For example, cancer cells are transmitting strong replication signals. The Healing Computer detects these frequency variations and the causes of them, which may be fungal or chemical responses.

Once identified, the Healing Computer then generates a specific series of healing frequencies that negate the cause and the replicating signal. The cancer cells then stop growing and revert back to a normal functioning frequency and the root cause is eliminated.

We have numerous testimonials where Stage 4 cancers have been completely reversed, kidney failure has been revived to normal function, tissues and organs are regenerated, and much more.

The Healing Computer also identifies and eliminates most known pathogens like viruses, harmful bacteria and fungi, worms and other parasites as an integral part of every scan and healing session.

This is also shown in detail in the diagnostic results that can be printed out.

It should be noted that all our bodies are hosts to all kinds of both good and bad living things and that the Healing Computer is capable of identifying and eliminating the bad ones and not harming the good ones.

Finally, modern scientist will all tell you that the human body is made-up of millions of electro-magnetic frequencies. As such, treatments using inert white powders, poisonous food additives and chemically treated water will not cure you, nor will chemotherapy or most surgeries.

Simply, electro-magnetic frequencies are healed with electro-magnetic frequencies.

That is what the Healing Computer does.

How do I get a Healing Computer?

The Healing Computers are currently custom-made and only available in limited quantities exclusively through Mr. Neil Keenan as the only worldwide agent of the manufacturer.

There will only be a limited number available annually for private ownership as the bulk of production will go to “FREE HEALTH CLINICS” under a fully funded healthcare initiative. The available private units will be on a first-come-first serve basis with full deposits made prior to delivery.

Every private purchaser will get a complete new computer unit and up to 3-days of personal training. Delivery and training locations will be negotiated based on the location of the Buyer and nearest professional trainer.

FREE CLINIC Program Models

There are 2 FREE CLINIC business models that are being developed. The first one is being developed by Mr. Keenan as the Amanah as a major global humanitarian initiative. Under this program Free Clinics will be set up primarily for the treatment of the poor.

These clinics will be fully funded through a Trust Fund. This funding will include covering the cost of premises, staff, overhead expenses and the Healing Computers. In this model, Mr. Keenan will be looking for competent people to run these clinics.

The second Free Clinic model is to create privately funded clinics that are normally sponsored by donations. These clinics would operate under sponsored budgets and should function humanitarily for a local community.

Private Clinic Models

Many of the initial private purchasers of the Healing Computers have set up small commercial clinics and charge a small and reasonable fee per session. This has proven to be a viable business alternative as the cost of the Healing Computer is normally recovered easily within the first year.

Of course rates charged by private clinics will be variable based on location, clientele affordability and their health conditions. The point being made is that this is a viable business model under a variety of conditions.

In virtually all financial scenarios the business model recovers the Healing Computer costs in a short period, including the cost of premises, overheads and your own labor cost. Operating from home or at client locations will reduce costs and if sold as an annual health check-up and treatment package to companies or local government agencies as a means of reducing their healthcare costs, this should prove to be a very successful business model.

I hope that you understand that this Q&A paper is not meant to be a sales pitch. My intent has been to inform and assist our friends in more fully understanding the technology and opportunities that this technology creates to make this world a healthier place for mankind.

A Few More Testimonials

But don't just rely on my testimony. Ask Neil about his broken toe with the bone sticking out. He had one session and went to bed. In the morning he awoke to find the toe completely healed and the skin covering it completely regenerated without a scar or scratch.

Or ask Richard who suffered his whole life with allergies and after a few sessions they are completely gone.

Or contact Neesham, Larry, Nancy, Anne, Vikki, Sue and other Healing Computer owners and ask them about their own sometimes miraculous healing experiences. The positive testimonials go on and on. And if you want to see for yourself, contact us with your location and we will try and hook you up for a session with the nearest Healing Computer practitioner.

And If you are in Asia, we will be returning to Jogjakarta soon for some follow-up treatments, so if you would like to book a session, please give me an email and we will see what we can do for you.

This is the future of healing - and the future is now.
